-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 8 February 2006.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to Applicant's amendment filed 2/8/2006.

Status of Claims

- [1] Claims 1, 3-8, 12, and 14-15 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

- [2] The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

- [3] Claims 1, 4-6, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as clearly anticipated by Minematsu, US-2,790,302, because the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, or in public use or on sale in this country more than one (1) year prior to the application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3677

The shape and appearance of Minematsu is identical in all material respects to that of the claimed design, Hupp v. Siroflex of America Inc., 122 F.3d 1456, 43 USPQ2d 1887 (Fed. Cir. 1997).

As for Claim 1, Minematsu teaches of a necklace (could be worn as a necklace), comprising (see figures below):

a first plurality of links (1), each link of the first plurality (1) having first (2) and second (2) hinge elements that mate with other links (5), and restrict articulation between the links (1) to a first plane; (3) and a second plurality of links (5), each link of the second plurality (5) having first (6) and second (6) hinge elements that mate with other links (1) and restrict articulation between the links (5) to a second plane (7), where the second plane (7) is at an angle (8) with respect to the first plane (3).

Re: Claim 4, further comprising means (2, 6) for connecting the first plurality of links (1) to the second plurality of links (5).

Re: Claim 5, where the means for connecting the first plurality of links (1) to a second plurality of links (5) comprises an interconnecting link (interchange of 5 and 9 in Fig. 4; or between 2 and 6 above) comprising (see figures above):

a first hinge element (2) restricting articulation to a first plane (3); and a second hinge element (6) restricting articulation to a second plane (7), where the second plane (7) is at an angle (8) with respect to the first plane (3).

Re: Claim 6, where the first hinge element (2) of the interconnecting link (2,6) restricts articulation to the first plane (3); and the second hinge (6) of the interconnecting link (2,6) restricts articulation to the second plane (7).

As for Claim 12, Minematsu teaches of an interconnecting link (interchange of 5 and 9 in Fig. 4; or between 2 and 6 above) for connecting a first plurality of link (1) to a second plurality of links (5) in a necklace, comprising (see figures above):

a first hinge element (2) restricting articulation to a first plane (3); and
a second hinge element (6) restricting articulation to a second plane (7), where the second plane (7) is at an angle (8) with respect to the first plane (3).

[4] Claims 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as clearly anticipated by Gomez, US-6,220,010, because the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, or in public use or on sale in this country more than one (1) year prior to the application for patent in the United States.

The shape and appearance of Gomez is identical in all material respects to that of the claimed design, Hupp v. Siroflex of America Inc., 122 F.3d 1456, 43 USPQ2d 1887 (Fed. Cir. 1997).

As for Claim 8, Gomez teaches of a link (2) (Fig. 1) for a necklace, comprising first (30) and second (32) hinge elements that mate with other links (2), where the first (30) and second (32) hinge elements restrict articulation of adjacent links to a plane horizontal with respect to the link (2) (from col. 2, lines 10-24).

Allowable Subject Matter

[5] Claims 3, 7, and 14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

As for Claims 3, 7, and 14, the prior art, incorporating other corresponding limitations as set forth above, does not teach of the first plane being vertical with respect to the first plurality of links and interconnecting link; and the second plane horizontal with respect to the second plurality of links and interconnecting link when the first and second plurality of links are connected by their corresponding interconnecting links.

[6] Claim 15 is allowed for the same reasons as described in the preceding paragraph.

Response to Arguments

[7] Applicant's amendment, see amendment and remarks filed 2/8/2006, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-15 under Poll, US-5,343,718, have been fully considered. Therefore, the rejection with regard to Pöll has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration of the amended claims, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Minematsu, US-2,790,302 for claims 1, 4-6, and 12, and then Gomez, US-6,220,010 for Claim 8.

Art Unit: 3677

Conclusion

[8] THIS ACTION IS NON-FINAL

[9] The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

The following patents are cited further to show the state of the art with respect to this particular type of jewelry item; as well as their extreme relevance to the current application as many read extensively onto the claimed invention: please see submitted notice of reference cited.
